6. Points and Rankings

Picks are entered for each game in a round. 1 point is awarded for picking the winner of the match. If the match result is a draw, no points are awarded for picks in the match.

A bonus 2 points is awarded for picking a perfect round and any player that achieves a perfect round will go into the draw to win a prize to the value of $50.

A margin score is required to be entered for one match in each round. The margin represents the amount that you predict your selected team will win by. Your margin score will be used to determine the winner of a round or the entire contest if the scores are equal. The lower your margin score the better the entrant is deemed to have performed.

Calculating Margins

If the team you pick wins the match, your margin score is the difference between the actual margin in the Full Time Score that the team you picked won by, and the margin you entered. For example, if you picked the Broncos in the following scenario:

Full time score Broncos 54 vs Cowboys 6

Margin entered 36

Actual Margin 48

Margin Score $48 - 36 = 12$

If the team you picked loses the match, your margin score is the actual margin plus the margin entered. For example, if you picked Cowboys for the same scenario:

Full time score Broncos 54 vs Cowboys 6

Margin entered 6

Actual Margin 48

Margin Score $48 + 6 = 54$

If an entrant does not submit a pick for a game, they are assigned the away team as their pick.

If an entrant does not submit any picks for a round, they are assigned the away team as their pick.

Points awarded to entrants will be aggregated at the completion of each round during the contest, and entrants will be ranked in accordance with the points they scored and their margin score for the round.

The rankings for each separate round in the contest will be used to determine the winners of the overall competition.

The points and margin scores awarded to entrants for each round will accumulate throughout the contest. The rankings for the whole of the contest will be used to determine the winners of the first, second, third and last place prizes in accordance with clause 7 below.

7. Determination of winners

The margin score will be used to determine the winner of a round or the overall contest if the scores are equal. For example, if two entrants share 1st place on 100 points, the entrant with the lowest margin score will be the winner.

If entrants cannot be split using these methods, then the prize will be split. The prize splitting process will be such that where there is a tie for any place (first place, second place etc) the prize for that place and prize for the next lower place will be combined, and each of the tied winners will receive an equal split of the combined prize. For example, where there is a tie between two winners for the First Prize, the First and Second Prizes will be combined and each of the two winners will then receive half of the combined prize. Directors or employees of Adenbrook Homes are eligible to enter and play along, however are not eligible for prize money for perfect rounds or for the overall prize money.

Round winner prizes will be eligible only for those that achieve a perfect round and only one winner will be drawn per perfect round.

If the NRL season is not completed due to any reason, there will be no winner appointed. The NRL season must be completed and a grand final winner observed in order for a winner for the Adenbrook Homes tipping competition to be appointed and for the prize money to be allocated.
